

Presented By Dan
Williams, Life
Coach & College Professor.

IMPACT:
How to equip
young leaders to succeed in college & young adulthood.

Monday, 11/26
from 7:00-8:00
P.M. in the Golden
Valley High School Library.

Current Reality: Every student @ Golden Valley High School is marching toward the biggest transition of his or her young life. Leaving the structure and familiarity of high school behind to embark upon a future path of their choosing. This creates considerable angst and anticipation within every family. A great deal of time & energy often go into mastering the process of getting accepted to college. It is a complicated jungle to navigate, and conquer. But you already knew that.

The Problem: Too many master the art of getting accepted to college, and neglect to successfully navigate through college, as witnessed by the current non-graduation rate of 44%. Why? That is a powerful question worth unpacking now in order to overcome & be in a position to reach the finish line, with degree and future opportunity in hand!

The Remedy: We will explore 5 strategic building blocks that link together to create future certainty. An optimal life track for a Golden Valley High student to pursue with intention. This understanding will serve as a vehicle to transport them toward a well defined & specific future of their choosing. The desired result being that time & talents are maximized, passion is deployed, and the future becomes a powerful force worth pursuing. This opportunity is available to every single young leader @ Golden Valley!

The Go & Do: You will leave with a specific, actionable process, encouragement, and tools to ultimately master. If you have a son or daughter considering college, and you want them to ultimately become the best version of themselves, this process is designed to help you help them. I look forward to connecting.

«Organization»

OFFICE

«Address»

«Address», «Address» «Address»

PHONE

«Phone»

FAX

«Phone»

EMAIL

«Email»

WEB

«URLs»